Air Force; a Navy hospital corpsman, currently home on leave who will depart this weekend for Rhode Island prior to service with the Marines in Vietnam; and a recently promoted airman, stationed in Korea, are among servicemen listed in today's "Yule Mail Call."

Vahram A. Harolan, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vahram Harolan, 2026 Iowa street, recently was promoted to Airman First Class while serving at Quansan, Korea, with the 34th Security Police Squad.

A 1967 graduate of Granite City high school, he enlisted in the Air Force last April and spent four months undergoing basic and advanced training at Lackland AFB, Tex., before assignment to Korea on Aug. 23.

Navy hospital corpsman, who previously was graduated from the San Diego Naval Hospital Corps School and also underwent combat training at Camp Pendleton Marine Corps Base before being selected to attend the Medical Service School.

The 16-year-old corpsman, who expects to be in Vietnam with the First or Third Marine Divisions two to four months from now, has been spending a short furlough at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gieson, 2801 Miraloma avenue, Newport, R. I., Naval Hospital where he is to remain until assigned overseas.

Also a 1967 graduate of Granite City high school, Navy on Feb. 21. Relatives, friends and church, civic and service groups are invited to submit the names and addresses of service personnel for inclusion in "Yule Mail Call." Those submitting addresses are asked to write the details to the Press-Record office, 1815 Delmar avenue.

Fund Transfer Problems Arise Again for GC Council

With fund transfer resolutions taking up most of Monday night's Granite City council session, the aldermen agreed readily to a suggestion by Moerlein for pro-rating city sales tax revenue as it is received.

A method of distribution is to be worked out by the attorney, treasurer and comptroller and presented to the council. Moerlein pointed out the system is used in the city of Alton.

In Granite City each year, sales tax funds are transferred to regular city departments such as the police and fire departments and to special funds such as for school crossing guards salaries and for special city improvements.

During Monday night's two-hour session, the council unraveled briefly over a method of paying for special improvement project engineering services, and finally agreed to proceed with a transfer of funds from sales tax to the special improvement account.

No Engineering Budget. A problem arose when the council last summer was at odds with Mayor Parry over his selection of the firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab as consulting engineers and removed the $8000 engineering item from the budget.

The engineer, Edw. Jeneau, has resigned, but several of his bills that were on Monday night's list were separated from the list and were not paid.

Council members read and re-read a legal opinion from City Atty. Allen and called upon him for further explanation on methods of transferring funds.

Allen replied the method was specified in state statutes, and the city for years has not complied with the regulation, especially concerning unbudgeted items.

The aldermen first thought of declaring an emergency for payment of engineering fees to Research Planning & Design Associates, but then decided to follow past practices "with fingers crossed."

"Nobody Would Sue. 'Nobody in Granite City would sue us,' Basarich remarked, when Allen cautioned the members there was a possibility of a suit being filed to enjoin the city.

The matter of paying the RPD bill for a new high lift machine. The city had budgeted $10,000, and the difference will be made up with $2000 from the bituminous materials fund and $2000 from the contingent fund.

$275,418 Bill List. The bill list, with the separated items removed, totaled $275,418. The largest payments were to S. M. Wilson Co. for storm water sewer construction and totaled $233,589.

At the request of Alderman Poulos, $16,000 was withheld from a phase of the project in which smaller lines were laid under streets.

Poulos said he hoped that would cause the contractor to speed up repairs to street excavations. Whittier pointed out that 10% of each bill was held up routinely for such purposes.

"If you want action, why don't you hold up the entire amount?" he asked. Poulos said he thought the $16,000 would be enough.

The payroll for the last half of November, totaling $40,890, was approved. Moerlein called for separation of salaries of the sewage treatment plant employees, but the council proceeded to vote approval. Also approved was sick leave for the first half of November, amounting to $1023.

In other business, the council held over until next meeting, a request from Operating Engineers Local 525 for two additional operators to be hired for the sewage treatment plant.

Harold L. Rice, president of the union, is to be present at next week's council session, and in the meantime, the council plans to study the need at the treatment plant.

The union is stressing a second man for the night shift, when now there is only one person at the plant.

At present, the lone operator calls police at specified times to advise them he is on duty and has not been injured. Also, the union suggests the vacation swingman be hired on a full-time basis to fill in for routine absenteeism.

Purchase of fire hose from the Leo M. Ellebracht Co., St. Louis, the lone bidder, was approved. A thousand feet of 2 1/2-inch hose is being bought for $1840, and four feet of 1 1/2-inch hose for $316.

Mrs. Milovich, 77, Dies; Ill Five Years

Mrs. Johanna Milovich, nee Miller, 77, of 1340 Edwardsville road, Madison, died at 9:30 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient for eight days. Ill for five years, she was being treated in the hospital for a heart condition.

Born in Wright, Mo., she had lived in St. Charles, Mo. and in this area 28 years.

She was a member of Concordia Lutheran Church and the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

Surviving are her husband, George Milovich; one son Edward Porter of St. Charles, Mo.; one brother, Louis Miller of Fulton, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Amelia Hayda of Ironton, Mo.; four grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Perishing in death was a brother, Herman Miller, and two sisters, Mrs. Ann Parkhill and Mrs. Laurie Hart.

Venice officers reported that several hours after they received a stolen car report Monday from Mrs. Mary Watson of Viola Jones Homes, they received a report that a car had been damaged in an accident on the Bremen street levee and that the driver still was in the car.

Police said they found George in the car which had gone into a ditch and had two flat tires. Officers found a .22 caliber rifle loaded with 11 live shells in the trunk of the car and later found a box of .22 caliber cartridges on George.

Mrs. Watson was summoned to police headquarters where she identified her car, but re-

1968 Wool and Mohair Marketing Ends Dec. 31

The 1968 marketing year under the wool and mohair program will end Dec. 31 and government payments for the year will depend upon completing all details of marketing by that date, Lee Rogers, office manager of the Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, announced today.

Rogers urged all producers to make certain that all details for 1968 sales including transfer of title to buyer, delivery of wool or mohair to the buyer, be completed by the end of the year. Otherwise, he said, marketing made after the Dec. 31 date will constitute sales of the 1969 year which are not payable until 1970. Applications for 1968 payments may be obtained at his office, Rogers said.

Award to Marshall Gun Club for Annual Sighting-In Events

The John N. Marshall Gun Club, Granite City, has received a National Rifle Association Public Service Award for conducting a "sighting-in day" to prepare area hunters and their equipment for the 1967 hunting season, it was announced today.

More than 18 hunters checked their firearms for safety, "sighted them in" for accuracy, and reviewed fundamental principles of hunter safety to reduce the possibility of accidents and improve chances of hunting success in the field.

The club is one of hundreds throughout the country that conduct an NRA sighting-in day program each year. The NRA-affiliated clubs open their ranges to sportsmen prior to the hunting season as part of an overall hunter safety program credited with continually reducing the hunting accident toll and increasing hunting skill.

With more than 21 million licensed hunters taking to the fields this year, the goal has assumed major importance, the NRA noted.

MORE ABOUT

the city and township balloting, also may fix its own precinct boundaries.

In past years this has created in a number of locations the necessity of a voter balloting on election day if he wished to vote for candidates in all three elections.

Three in GC

According to Miss Hotz there were three Granite City precincts casting more than 800 ballots on Nov. 5, two precincts in Nameoki township and two in Chouteau townships. None of the 11 precincts of Venice township cast more than 800 votes, she said.

The three Granite City precincts include No. 17 which cast 950 votes Nov. 5 at the polling place located at the park district office at Benton street and Oregon avenue; No. 23 which cast 935 votes at its polling place at the Junior Achievement Center, 3307 Wabash avenue, and No. 32, which cast 908 votes at its polling place in the central Christian church, 2020 Johnson road.

Largest vote in any single precinct of the Quad-City area was cast in Nameoki township No. 1 where 1055 voters cast ballots at the Long Lake Fire Station on Pontoon road. The other oversized Nameoki township precinct is No. 3 where 822 votes were cast in the general election at Tri-City Glass Co., 4500 Wabash avenue.

Chouteau Area Grows

Boundary changes will be required in Precincts 1 and 4 of Chouteau township, both located in the rapidly growing area of the township adjoining Granite City. Three years ago Chouteau township had three precincts and No. 1 was split to create precinct 4. Within the three-year period the area has grown to such extent that a total of 839 votes was cast in precinct 1 polling place at the Mitchell Water District office, and 589 votes were cast in the Eberhart building on Old Alton road.

In the past township supervisors have revised voting precincts by dividing them in half and creating an additional precinct. Granite City now has 32 township precincts, but only 30 city precincts. Nameoki township has seven township precincts, Venice township 11 and Chouteau has four.

Miss Hotz said the large number of Madison county precincts recording votes of more than 800 resulted from the record turnout in the Nov. 5 general election.

In Collinsville township there were five precincts reporting a vote of more than 800 each. There were two such precincts in Wood River township, two in Godfrey township and one in Jarvis township, in addition to those in the Quad-City area.

MORE ABOUT Elections

City for a mayoralty primary has been set from Dec. 23 to Jan. 7, with a withdrawal deadline of Jan. 11. The mayoralty primary, if one is required, will be held Feb. 11.

An amended state law adopted in a special legislative session last July requires that a primary election for nomination of mayoralty candidates be held in municipalities where more than two candidates seek the mayor's post. While it has been established that such a primary would be held on Feb. 11, dates for filing petitions of candidacy have not yet been officially established.

The primary requirement does not apply to candidates for aldermen or other city posts subject to election. Municipalities in the Quad-Cities have not held primaries in the past, listing all candidates for city offices on a single, non-partisan ballot in Granite City. In Madison and Venice most candidates have filed under political party headings in past years.

Filing dates for city offices (with the possible exception of mayor) will be the same as those for candidates seeking township offices. First date for filing petitions in the city and township elections is Dec. 23, with the last day to file petitions set on Jan. 27. Deadline for withdrawals will be Feb. 1.

Dec. 23 also is the first date persons in United States service may file applications for an absentee ballot.

A new factor in next year's municipal election is a new statutory requirement that all voters be registered with the county clerk's office as qualified voters. Persons applying for a ballot at the polling places will be required to sign an affidavit that they are a duly registered voter. In past years, city residents allowed to vote were merely listed in a precinct poll book.

The schedule of election dates for the municipal elections sets March 3 as the final date for voters to register.

Terms of Granite City officials that expire next year and are subject to election in the April 1 city balloting include Mayor Donald Partney, who has not yet said whether he will seek re-election; City Clerk Homer Pendleton and City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich, both of whom will run, and eight aldermen.

Eight Terms Expire

While the terms of eight Granite City aldermen expire in 1969, only seven aldermen will be elected as the result of redistricting into seven wards. Incumbent aldermen whose terms expire next year and their ward locations under terms of redistricting include 1st Ward Alderman William Dallas; 2nd Ward Alderman Edmund Bartosik; 3rd Ward Alderman Roy Paulos; Former 4th Ward Alderman Paul Rutledge who now is in the 2nd Ward; 5th Ward Alderman Steve Basarich; 6th Ward Alderman Richard Fry; former 7th Ward Alderman R. E. Robertson now in the 4th ward, and 8th Ward Alderman Ford John, now in the 7th ward.

State law provides that in cases of ward reductions, all aldermen are to serve out their full terms of office. This means that all eight of the aldermen whose terms do not expire this year will remain in office until the 1971 city elections when one additional aldermanic post will be phased out. Consequently the Granite City council will operate with 15 aldermen for two years after the elections next spring.

In Granite City township, the terms of three of its five supervisors will expire and will be open to election. These include Nelson Hagnauer, Carl Buehler and Milton R. Allen.

Barton's Term Expires

Also subject to election in the April 1 township elections will be the post of Assessor James Barton. Granite City township does not elect a clerk or collector as these offices are filled by the Granite City clerk and treasurer because of the city's a and township's contiguous boundaries.

Only one term expires next year on the Granite City park board, that of Paul Schuler, and will be subject to election on April 1 along with the Granite City and township elections.

In Venice township's April 1 election, offices open to balloting will be those of Supervisor Arthur "Cooper" Moore, Madison; Assistant Supervisor Jay Maurer of Venice; Collector Frank Reideberger of Venice; Assessor Mrs. Joseph Bergth of Madison; Town Clerk Thomas Foley of Venice; and town auditors Lawrence J. Puert of Venice, Albert J. Topal of Madison and John Bridick. Bridick is serving by appointment.

The term of Supervisor Walter Sparks of Chouteau township also will be open to election April 1, as will the terms of all members of the Chouteau township board of auditors. They include James Greer, Mitchell; Marion Sparks, Mitchell; and Cletus Bedwell of South Roxana. Other terms expiring in that township and subject to election are Town Clerk George Warnecke, Assessor Otis Reeves and Collector Charles Lexow.

Serving By Appointment

Greer, serving on the board of auditors by appointment while Walter Sparks also is serving as supervisor by appointment and Warnecke is serving as town clerk by appointment. Sparks, formerly town clerk, was appointed supervisor to succeed the late Joseph Troeckler. Warnecke, then on the board of auditors, was appointed to succeed Sparks at town clerk and Greer was named to Warnecke's vacancy on the board.

Nameoki township is the only township in the area that will not elect a supervisor or assistant supervisor in the April 1 town elections. Both of the township's incumbent supervisors, Harry Briggs and Roger Dellour, were elected in 1967.

Nameoki voters will elect three town auditors. Terms expiring are those of incumbents Herbert Polley, William Schreiber and Robert Strackelbach.

Other Nameoki township offices to be filled include those of Town Clerk John Karischk, Assessor Joseph Coban and Town Collector Gene Rotter.

In the Venice park district election, also to be held on April 1, two board members are to be elected to terms now served by John Mitchell and Mabel Dandridge.

Since city elections in Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach are scheduled on April 15, the candidates' filing period for those elections are different than those for the Granite City or township elections.

First day for filing petitions of candidacy in those elections will be Jan. 15 with Feb. 10 the last date on which to file nominating papers. Last day for filing withdrawals will be Feb. 15. Jan. 6 also will be the first date on which electors in United States service may apply for an absentee ballot.

Terms expiring in the city of Venice and subject to the April 15 election are those of Mayor John E. Lee, who has announced he is a candidate for re-election; City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold; City Treasurer Bernard Anderson, and Aldermen Harry Buehler, Hank Svezia, Charles Hampton and John Ervin.

Terms to be filled in the Madison election, also on April 15, include those of Mayor Stephen Maerz, City Clerk John Bell, City Treasurer Dennis Nicholas, and four of five expiring aldermanic posts. Aldermen whose terms expire in 1969 are Donald Reeves, 1st ward; Benjamin Bosworth, 2nd ward; Ray Kozielek, 3rd ward; Chris Costoff, 4th ward, and Booker T. Walton, 5th ward.

Renaissance Art Course Enrollment Open at SIU-SW

Registration is open at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus for a new course on Renaissance Art in Italy and Southern Europe to be offered during the winter quarter, opening Jan. 2.

According to Prof. H. H. Hilberry, head of the art faculty, the course is one of three in a sequence entitled Renaissance and Baroque Art.

There are no prerequisites for the series, Hilberry said, pointing out that while the course is listed in the catalog as Art, it is open to graduate students for credit on a four or five hundred level. Graduate students will register for research or readings related to the material, he explained.

Renaissance and Baroque Art will be a study of architecture, sculpture and painting from the waning of the Middle Ages to the beginning of modern movements in the 18th century. Teaching the course will be Prof. Leon Jacobson, who came to the SIU-Southwestern campus this fall from the School of Art at Richmond (Va.). Professional Institute. A graduate of City College of New York, Jacobson received his Ph. D. from the University of Southern California. He was at one time professor and chairman of art history at East Carolina University in Greenville, N. C.

Further information about the Renaissance and Baroque Art series may be obtained by calling Prof. Hilberry at (618) 692-2771, Edwardsville.

The fellow who loses himself in thought is soon discovered.

offer protection to many Name-oki township residents," the mayor said. "I will meet with Briggs and ask him if the township will go along with paying half the cost of the new traffic signal." Maeras said the cost would range between $15,000 and $20,000.

Maeras said that Kronst also has informed him that the highway department expects to eliminate left turns for northbound traffic on McCambridge at Second street and at Edwardsville road, two of the most prominent danger spots for traffic accidents.

No Need of Change
He pointed out, however, that results of a traffic count made by a highway department staff indicated that there is no need of changes at the Third street crossing where the two youngsters were struck by cars. If a letter read during the council session, Kronst informed the mayor that the traffic count still indicates the greater number of crossings by school children at Sixth street, and that the electric signal should therefore be left at that location.

The traffic count which was made on Nov. 29 between the hours of 7 and 10 a.m. and from 2 to 5 p.m. showed that 563 children crossed McCambridge during those periods.

Of this number, 116 used the underpass, 208 crossed at the Sixth street signal, and 238 crossed at other locations at Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sken, and Sixth streets.

American Steel Strikers Reject Contract Offer

Striking machinists at American Steel Foundries rejected a new company contract offer in a meeting yesterday, while stepped-up negotiations in two major steelworkers strikes in the Quad-City area were reported.

Union representatives and company officials resumed contract talks this morning in an effort to resolve strikes at General Steel Industries, where 1300 steelworkers are striking and 700 are laid off, and at Dow Chemical Co. where 700 steelworkers are on strike.

Negotiators in the strike of United Steelworkers of America Local 4804 at Dow met 14 hours yesterday, from 10 a.m. until midnight, then resumed their talks at noon today in the offices of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service at St. Louis.

Union leaders and officials of General Steel met Monday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. They resumed contract talks at 10 a.m. today.

Striking Since Aug. 31
The strike at Dow has been under way since Aug. 31, and at General Steel since Nov. 1. General Steel strikers are members of USWA Local 1024.

Striking members of International Association of Machinists District 9 at American Steel Foundries were given a new contract offer in a mediation session Monday, but voted 75% against acceptance in a ratification meeting held yesterday, according to Ray Hawkins, business representative of the union.

Hawkins said issues in the machinists' strike involves contract language over arbitration procedure and seniority for working foremen and supervisory employees. He said wage scales also are involved. About 60 machinists are on strike at American Steel.

Red Cross 'Talking Letter' Yule Project Starts Monday

Starting Monday and continuing each weekday from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., "Voices From Home," a free talking letter Christmas project will be sponsored by the Tri-City American Red Cross Chapter, it was announced today by Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, chapter executive.

The annual program enables the families of servicemen overseas to record their voices, later mailing the discs to sons, husbands, fathers and brothers who will be away from home during the coming holiday season.

The recordings may be made at the local Red Cross office, 1411 Twenty-first street. No charge is made for the pre-holiday service project which is offered to Quad-Cityans until the week before Christmas.

Although primarily designed for relatives of servicemen overseas, Mrs. Overbeck said an invitation to record messages is extended this year to families of military personnel hospitalized in this country.

Appointments to make a recording are not required, the chapter official said. She pointed out that the Tri-City chapter will provide the recording facilities, an unbreakable disc, a tape to record 15 minutes of conversation and heavy wrapping material to protect the recording in transit.

Register War Souvenirs—But Don't Bring Them

Servicemen, ex-servicemen and others who have certain types of unregistered war trophies as souvenirs may be in violation of the Gun Control Act of 1968 unless these weapons or devices are registered with the Internal Revenue Service by Dec. 1. Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said machine guns, sawed-off shotguns, sawed-off rifles, bazookas, rockets, mortars, bombs, mines, grenades and similar destructive devices that have been retained as souvenirs or war trophies must be registered or turned in by the deadline.

Representatives of the IRS Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division will offer assistance in registering or disposing of any such weapons or devices. Owners should not bring the weapon or device to the IRS, but should call, write or visit the nearest Alcohol and Tobacco Tax or other IRS office for information and assistance, Philpott said.

The law provides that those who fail to register or dispose of the specified firearms or destructive devices, which they possess may be subject to imprisonment of up to 10 years, fines of up to $10,000, or both. Civil penalties can also be imposed and property forfeitures ordered.

'Health Careers Night' for Students Set at Hospital

More than 200 possible jobs exist in today's modern hospitals which are referred to as "Cities of Care" by those responsible for their operation and maintenance.

To learn about employment opportunities available in an up-to-date hospital facility, Quad-City high school students and other young adults are invited to attend a "Health Careers Night" program, to be sponsored next Wednesday by the Health committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The careers night program is to be conducted at the local hospital between 7 and 9 p.m. Dec. 4, and will give interested young people a chance to investigate many professions now open in the health care field.

Sister Mary Thomas, St. Elizabeth administrator, pointed out that a large modern hospital facility has hundreds and often thousands of people working within its boundaries at least three or four individuals for every patient.

She cited an example of important services provided by the bio-medical engineer and technicians who design, install and maintain the electronic heart monitors which quickly sound an alarm in modern cardiac care units; and trained employees who combat the constant threat of infection by using controlled methods in the hospital's housekeeping, laundry and central sterilizing units.

In the local hospital alone, there are 23 significant health professions, about which questions will be answered in next Wednesday's program, the administrator said. All interested high school students and young adults are encouraged to attend the special program and discover what opportunities do exist, she added.

Miss Craddock Among Who's Who in Universities

Lynn J. Craddock, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James R. Craddock, 3241 Rodger avenue, has been named in this year's national listing of America's most outstanding university and college students.

Her name is included in the 1968-69 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," a listing of the campus leaders from more than 1000 of the nation's institutions of higher learning.

Miss Craddock, a Hiram College senior majoring in history, is one of 22 Hiram juniors and seniors included in the 1968-69 directory.

The students were named because of their academic standing, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and future potential. She is president of Capital University senior women's honor society.

While at Hiram, Ohio, she has been on the steering committee for the Association of Women Students, a resident assistant in her dormitory, secretary of the modern dance club, secretary for the dormitory house council, and a member of the Hiram College Orchestra.

LYNN J. CRADDOCK

In May, she received the Fenton Washington Semester Award to spend a half year at the American University, Washington, D.C.

Miss Craddock also has been a member of the Student Christian Movement and a tutor in Hiram College's off-campus tutoring program.

150 Madison Students Hear Talk on Museum

Mrs. Kenneth Maddy of the lecture staff at the St. Louis Art Museum presented a lecture to the 150 students enrolled in the Humanities classes of the Madison schools Monday afternoon.

Students and teachers of Dunbar, Madison junior high school and Madison senior high school attended this event which was arranged as a facet in the development of art appreciation, a significant part of the Humanities program.

The program is being implemented by the Madison schools in conjunction with the State Department for the Gifted.

John Palchett serves as curriculum director and Mrs. Marguerite Conelle is the director of the Humanities Program.

Quad-Cityans Thankful to Be a Part of Life in Autumn 1968, the 'Best of Times'

"It was the best of times; it was the worst of times. It was the age of wisdom; it was the age of foolishness. It was the epoch of belief; it was the epoch of incredulity. It was the season of Light; it was the season of Darkness. It was the spring of hope; it was the winter of despair."

Somewhere between spring and winter, hope and despair, Quad-Cityans tomorrow will observe Thanksgiving Day. They are thankful for the year's labor settlements, countless individual attainments, continued upgrading of living conditions and comforts, and instances of progress in shaping government policy and services more closely to the public need.

Thanksgiving is supposed to recall the hardships of three and a half centuries ago and evoke thoughts of venison and turkeys, pumpkins and mince-pies, pilgrims and Indians. The observance this year does bring them to mind, but other thoughts also crowd in, uninvited but not unwelcome due to their urgency and the trend toward viewing and "telling it like it is."

Events since the last Thanksgiving are the source of the intrusive images and messages.

The earthquake during the current month reminds us that we do not reside in some tranquil haven. We are passengers on a globe spinning along its orbit at blinding speed in a firmament of other enormous spheres separated by vast reaches of cold nothingness. Many planets, like the Earth, have surface crusts barely able to contain the fiery gases at their center.

No less dramatic than the difference between this hot core and cool exterior are the elements that make up day-to-day life in 1968. Consider the contrast between the savage Vietnam fighting and the largely "business as usual" home front, the disparity between affluence and deprivation, the self between those who lead active and constructive lives and those who are inactive or self-centered.

A look Heavenward affords a further reminder of the infinite forces that affect our existence.

Man's first halting step to penetrate the silent, dark emptiness will be taken simultaneously with the next major holiday after Thanksgiving, the Yuletide season. One can already visualize the self being drawn by the draw of the Apollo Eight spacecraft and the Bethlehem star, or an airborne sleigh. The joy of a successful mission would complement the Christmas spirit, but such a happy prospect cannot at this point entirely mask the apprehensions and dangers of the voyage.

Quad-Cityans and Americans are much like the astronauts who shortly will be launched into space—self-sufficient, but only so within rigid frameworks of capability, technology and probability.

Are we frightened enough to recognize the hazards of ignorance and desperation, the pitfalls of Communism and anarchy? Are we skilled enough to chart a course between the extremes of change and continuity, salvaging the best of the past while accepting the rushing present and racing onward into the future?

Will our civilization continue to work if we push the right buttons and pull the right levers, or is there a fatal flaw in the mechanism that can hurl us to disaster if our luck runs out? Is the training in patriotic, democratic principles, like the navigational and scientific training of U.S. spacemen, sufficiently ingrained? Will we encounter menacing areas in which accepted practices and advance preparations are found to be incomplete and inadequate guides?

Thanksgiving, Christmas, Peace, strife, Security, insecurity. In spite of, and because of, such thoughts, we are thankful for the positive values which bolster mankind—and pray not so much for the perpetuation of the good, but a chance to serve meaningfully in endeavors relevant to our times.

Are we thankful it is Thanksgiving 1968 that we are about to celebrate? Would we be happier in the past, the present, the "golden era," or in the future, when disease may have been conquered and life enriched?

By no means. In the words of Dickens, this is the "best of times" and we are thankful to be a part of them.

Ample Reputable Sources of Campaign Funds If Party Officials Seek Them

"If we don't 'lug' appointed employees or accept contributions from people who want certain bills passed, how can we finance our campaigns?" This attitude on the part of some Madison county party leaders is not conducive to good government and, in our opinion, not necessary.

The local Republican effort, which proved to be effective, was financed largely by a $100,000 plate dinner. Democrats added significantly to their treasury with a $25 banquet. In other areas and nationally, requests for contributions without even a meal thrown in were overwhelmingly successful in 1964 and 1968.

Politicians who fill campaign coffers at the expense of sound laws and competent work are unimaginative, and we suspect, lazy. Now, before new officials are sworn and new terms are started, would be an excellent time for the practice of mulcting appointees and lobbyists to be eliminated, once and for all.

Looking Back, in More Ways Than One

Did pioneer Quad-Cityans have a sense of humor? You can bet they did, judging by a photograph we published this week of charter members of the Ladies Coterie, taken in 1895. Received along with the scene of the group which we reproduced was a picture taken months before of after: the ladies were in the same formation but each had pivoted 180 degrees, affording a strikingly different perspective.

United Fund Still In the News

Hats are off to John D. Solenberg, local United Fund director, newly elected as president of the Illinois Association of Chests, Funds and Councils. A fine way to demonstrate the community's esteem would be to push Tri-Cities UF campaign receipts up to and beyond 100%.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed if anonymity is requested. Communications of less than 250 words will be given preference. All are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those libelous or not in good taste will be rejected or edited.

DELAY IN KENNEDY CASE SHOWS LAW DEFICIENCY

To the Editor:
If there is any evidence that something is wrong with our judicial system, it is clearly in this case.

Need I say more? Are we blind? Is this the kind of respectability we desire?

It is clear in my mind that the laws of America are in favor of the criminal.

May God have mercy on us for this terrible blunder.

THRILLING REMINDERS OF ANTHEM BY GCHS BAND

To the Editor:
The following comments are only a minute expression of the feelings felt by the members of the Granite City Booster Club for what we consider to be the finest display of professional performing witnessed by us in many years.

We deeply appreciate the display of patriotism shown by the fans present at the football game on Friday night, Nov. 8.

To say the least, everyone present at the opening of the game must have been overwhelmed by the performance of the Granite City high school band. Without a doubt, the arrangements, the playing, the standing in every respect and demonstrated professionalism in the highest degree.

It is a good feeling to once again see a large group of fans cheering, singing, and playing their instruments, reverent and proud of their national anthem. "Hats off" to the band director and the members of the band.

Once again, we who were present know what it is like to have cold shivers run up and down our spines and feel the thrill of excitement. The Booster Club shares these comments with the citizens of Granite City in hopes that our expressions may cause that person to once again take pride in the value of freedom we will enjoy as United States citizens.

Thanks again to the Granite City high school band for their inspiration. We commend them for a job well done.

EMERALD DAWES,

CAUSE FOR THANKS—WAY TO UPGRADE DWELLINGS

To the Editor:
The melody in our hearts once again as the Bible's guest. Let us hear the carpenter singing his melody, as the mason singing his, as the maker ready for work or leaves of absence to become a housewife.

Let us do away with hissing and crying and back-biting. Let us rise above our social ills and once again become a happy, happy nation as we, the poor, pour out melodies of love.

There has been many a new stanza added to "I Hear America Singing." Large property owners who for years used the poor of Granite City in hopes they are singing as they see their slum dwellings being converted into a better home.

When a caseworker is of the opinion that a recipient's housing is substandard, he is required to prepare a report for the superintendent. Fred Weiss, Mr. Daniel R. Ruppelmeier, the Regional Director of Public Aid with offices in Belleville, to come in and request the state fire marshal to inspect the dwellings being rented to public aid recipients.

On Joseph Patten, state fire marshal, can be asked to inspect the dangerous, hazardous dwelling you are being forced to live in.

Don't feel sad; the landlord doesn't mind. Instead of paying $80 to $100 for a day after 30 days that his property remains in a hazardous condition, he is taking it out of his family's pocket where children of God live.

It is true they were crying and crying when Harold Swank, Mr. Daniel R. Ruppelmeier, the Regional Director of Public Aid, sent out memos to his caseworkers stating: "When a caseworker is of the opinion that a recipient's housing is substandard, he is re-

Secrecy Lifted on Germ Warfare

"Chemical and Biological Warfare: America's Hidden Arsenal," by Seymour M. Hersh. New York, Bobbs-Merrill Co. 354 pages, $7.50.

Reviewed by Harrison Youngren, a faculty member of the Department of Management of Southern Illinois University. (Review published in the Daily Egyptian, SUI Department of Journalism, Carbondale.)

In this book ex-police reporter Hersh lifts the lid on the past concealing our national arsenal, and shines the spotlight on the United States' storehouse of chemical and biological weapons.

Any effort to publicly illuminate this little-known, and even more poorly understood, instrument of potential genocide is a useful service.

Hersh reviews the history of chemical and biological warfare back to its recorded origins about 2000 B.C.

He cites an inventory of presently known agents ranging from deadly nerve gases through the defoliants and herbicides (known to gardeners as weed killers) to anthrax, germs, botulism, a variety of plagues, and fevers packaged for immediate delivery.

Hersh pinpoints the locations of U.S. centers for research, testing and production of these agents.

He fails to mention university research to the Department of Defense, and he discusses operational uses of some of these agents in Vietnam.

The major quarrel with this book does not lie in the subject matter nor in the facts Hersh presents, but rather in the rather terse prose used to convey the message.

He fails to discriminate adequately between common and relatively harmless agents, such as tear gas and weed killers, by shaking them together in the same psychological bag as the deadly nerve gases and anthrax bombs.

4. No one should resist a search of his person by law enforcement officer since, if the person has a right to search his person and the area of his immediate presence.

5. Whether or not an arrest is made, a law officer—after identifying himself—may stop any person in a public place if he has reason to believe that person has committed, is committing or is about to commit a crime.

The officer may demand the person's name and address and an explanation of his actions. If the officer reasonably suspects that he is in danger of being attacked, he may search the person for weapons.

Illinois In 1818—Congress Paved Way for December Statehood With Its Voting Eight Months Earlier

(From the Files of the Granite City Press-Record)

The Illinois memorial praying for statehood, adopted by the Territorial Council on Dec. 10, 1817, was laid before the lower house of Congress by Nathaniel Pope, the delegate from the territory, in the U. S. House of Representatives on Jan. 16, 1818.

It was immediately referred to a select committee of which Pope was chairman.

The memorial was brought up for consideration on Jan. 23.

Its title was: "To enable the people of Illinois Territory to form a constitution and state government, and for the admission of such state into the Union, on equal footing with the original states."

It was modeled after the Indiana Enabling Act which was approved by Congress in 1800.

After authorizing the inhabitants of the territory "to form for themselves a constitution and state government and to assume such name as they shall deem proper," Congress fixed the boundaries of the proposed state "as they are at present, with the exception that the northern boundary is to be an east and west line drawn through a point ten miles north of the southern extreme of Lake Michigan."

In order to obviate any difference over the validity of the change in the ordinance, the convention was required to ratify the boundaries aforesaid, "otherwise, they shall remain as now prescribed by the ordinance."

Section Three of the bill authorized "all white male citizens of the United States who shall have arrived at the age of 21 years, and have resided in said territory six months previous to the day of election, and all persons having the other respects the legal qualifications to vote for representatives in the General Assembly of the said territory, to choose representatives to form a convention." This differed from the Indiana act, which required a year's residence.

The Enabling Act was referred back to the House on Friday, Jan. 23, and sent to the Committee of the Whole.

It was not taken up until April 4, 1818. While the bill was pending, Pope introduced an amendment changing the northern boundary to its present position. A few other amendments, all of a minor nature, also were offered.

The third reading and final passage of the bill in the House took place on April 6, apparently without opposition; it was transmitted to the Senate the following day.

There was some opposition in the Senate and the bill was not adopted until April 14. It was signed by President James Monroe on April 18, 1818.

Breakthrough Achieved in Antibiotics Research

(American Chemical Society)

The first chemical synthesis of the antibiotic Terramycin has been accomplished.

For Hans H. Muxfeldt, professor of chemistry at Cornell University, the achievement climaxes a 10-year struggle to reproduce in the laboratory one of the most complex and most widely used antibiotics.

As his starting material, he used juglone, a compound derived from walnut.

Colleagues had the work as a brilliant and historical achievement. It opens the door for the development of tailor-made drugs to fight bacteria that are now totally or partially resistant to the best modern drugs.

Terramycin, which is the trade name for oxytetracycline, is one of the more important compounds in a family of antibiotics known as tetracyclines. Compared with penicillin, the tetracyclines attack a wider variety of bacteria and other disease-causing microorganisms, such as the larger viruses.

Tetracyclines are produced naturally as products of micro-biological fermentation. The oxytetracycline molecule was fully identified in 1962 by a research team at Chas. Pfizer & Company, Inc., New York.

The development of new antibiotics is part of scientists' continuing struggle with nature, he philosophized.

Disease-causing microorganisms, in their own fight for survival, develop resistance to drugs. So-called "hospital staph" is the most widely known example of this resistance.

In the late 1950s, new strains of staphylococci, resistant to penicillin and other drugs, were causing fatalities. To combat the staphylococci, researchers developed a modified penicillin called "staphin," another victory in a battle which scientists see as never ending.

Dr. Muxfeldt became interested in synthesizing Terramycin in 1953—mostly, he said, because no one thought it could be done. It was not until 1958 while a faculty member of the Technische Hochschule Braunschweig in West Germany, that he began to receive research support funds.

He then went to Zurich and, in 1961, to the Max Planck Institute where he joined the faculty of the University of Wisconsin. He went to Cornell in 1964.

The National Institutes of Health have granted Dr. Muxfeldt some $150,000 over the past six years in support of his research. He also was aided by Pfizer and Hoffmann, LaRoche, Inc., Nutley, New Jersey. In Germany, he was supported by the German government and chemical industry.

Capitalist Youths Hold Sit-ins at JA

Several hundred militant young capitalists have been staging two-hour demonstrations Monday through Thursday nights at 307 Wabash avenue.

There have been no arrests, no injuries, no violence, no damage to property and no civil disobedience sighted. There were no reports of drugs, lewdness, indecency or profanity. No flags were desecrated, no protest signs were carried and no cards of any kind were burned.

The group begins its take over at the Granite City Junior Achievement center each night at seven o'clock. The Granite City police department reports that no special details, no anti-riot equipment, no off duty officers and no overtime wages were required to handle the situation.

300 Teenagers
Among the crowd of more than 300 teenagers each week can be spotted some of the city's best known business characters from firms like Granite City Steel, A. O. Smith, and American Steel.

All of these men, who function as advisers to 16 teenage manufacturing companies and a bank, have long records of protest establishment activities including work in civic, business, charitable, social and professional organizations. The talk heard among them is the typical tough-line capitalist propaganda.

These unalienated, get-involved type teenagers come to the Granite City Center from Granite City, Madison, Venice, Collinsville and Edwardsville high schools to find out what words like free enterprise, co-operation, incentive and imagination really mean. They find out the best way possible, through practical experience.

Labor, management
They serve both as labor and management, running their own companies as they see fit and are not afraid to accept the responsibility that goes with putting success or failure squarely in one's own hands.

To put their respective enterprises into operation, these junior capitalists have sold more than 1100 shares of stock in the area. Right now production lines are turning out products and some sales representatives are fast reaching the $100 mark.

The free enterprise front organization, Junior Achievement, has been helping young people in and around the Granite City area learn about business and the free enterprise system for 14 years now. Rumor has it, that JA youth might succeed in preserving the American free enterprise system and the American way of life.

In Memoriam 33
In loving memory of JAMES KIELTY. Passed away Nov. 27, 1967. Love Note To Dad Oh Lord grant that I can be a parent as fine as mine was to me. With a loving heart and a correcting hand. Teach me how to love and respect my fellow man. The fear of God made you walk straight and tall. The way we love you most of all. No always right, not always true. Oh, the spirit of God, keeps you carrying on. His love is God filled you to your pockets, dear. But twenty little hands were yours to give. You gave more than silver or gold. All sweet memories dear, that are untold. Only one prayer I can whisper today That my children one day might say. Oh Lord, grant that I can be a parent as fine as mine was to me. Sadly missed by Wife, Daughter and Sons 33-11-27

RECORD-BREAKING CROWD of 600 to 650 was on hand Monday evening at the Granite City high school cafeteria to watch presentation of trophies to boys', girls', men's and women's teams in Granite City park district athletic programs. Awards also went to four special recipients at the ninth annual banquet. Guest speakers were Jerry Stovall of the football Cardinals, a last-minute replacement for Jackie Smith, and Dal Maxwell of the baseball Cardinals, a former Granite Cityan.

Maxvill Entertains Over 600 at 9th Park Banquet With Review of Japan

The Granite City park district held its ninth annual sports awards banquet here Monday evening. A record crowd gathered to listen to talks by sports personalities and watch awarding of trophies to teams in baseball, basketball, softball, flag football and tennis.

Main speaker was St. Louis Cardinals shortstop Del Maxvill, a hometown product who has become one of the stars of the National League champions, playing in three of the last five World Series.

The Cardinals, who finished a tour of Japan this week, won 12 of 18 games played over there. Maxvill told the audience of over 600 that the American players tower over the Japanese by an average of about six inches a man, Maxvill, who is 5'11", himself dwarfed by some U. S. athletes, said the games in Japan made him feel exceptionally tall.

Impressive Hitter
He was particularly impressed with the first baseman for the Japan Giants, who hit pitcher Steve Carlton's first fastball pitch for a 450-foot line drive and, the next time at bat, "almost decapitated" the Cardinal hurler when he threw a curve.

"Although many of the Japanese players would not qualify for the National or American League in the United States, the first baseman would have no trouble," Maxvill related.

He said that most of the professional teams in Japan would be rated as double-A or possibly triple-A teams in the U. S.

"Maxvill commented, 'I am certainly glad to see that rice wasn't on the menu this evening. I think I've had my fill of that for a while.'"

How Not To Start The Day
"I'll never forget one of the mornings in Japan, when I thought I was ordering an American breakfast of bacon and eggs and ended up with a bowl of rice and a bottle of sake."

He added, "This Granite City park district banquet is the finest in the St. Louis area and it is for one of the best causes, to honor our youth and civic accomplishments."

Among amusing anecdotes the shortstop related to the audience was one concerning an error he made during the World Series.

He said he failed to see a routine ground ball bouncing across the infield, and took a step opposite of the way that the ball went.

"That afternoon in the clubhouse, the reporters needed something to hang their hats on so they asked me why I missed that ground ball."

Truth Stranger Than Fiction
"I told them the truth, that I didn't see it, but they just wouldn't believe me. Finally, I figured that I might as well make something up. So I said that, just as soon as the ball was hit, a big bird swooped down from the sky and hit the ball, and I went after the bird instead of the ball. Do you know, a reporter asked me what kind of bird it was."

Jerry Stovall, an ace defensive back for the football Cardinals, gave a short talk stressing that "failure to man isn't as important as failure to God."

Toastmaster for the evening was William Kozak, local grocer and president of the Granite City Optimist club, and J. J. "Chuck" Pittman, president of the Twilight Optimist club.

Team trophies were presented to the winners of various park leagues by Maxvill, Stovall, Ken Gray, another St. Louis Cardinals football player, and Clarence Baumeyster, park commissioner.

Petrillo a Key Pass Receiver at Peru State

The key to the 1968 Peru State College (Peru, Neb.) season can be summed up in one word—passing.

Bobcat quarterbacks were able to complete 44 of 118 passes for 560 yards and one score, while the defense allowed 60 completions for 974 yards and a d 15 touchdowns.

Archie touchdowns were directly responsible for four of the six Peru defeats, the exceptions being Chadron State and Emporia State.

Oddly enough, Emporia was rated as one of the NAIA's best passing teams before its encounter with Peru, but the Hornets elected to stay on the ground due to a heavy rain that night and built up a sizeable halftime lead before going to the air in the game's latter stages.

With two quarterbacks, senior Carl Satterfield, Nebraska College, and sophomore Mark

Weiler, Dunbar, being injured during the season, the two split the action in the first five games and Weiler took over as the regular when Satterfield was declared out for the year with a concussion following the Kearney game.

No one man was a prime receiver during the year. Split end Wayne White, Elliot, Ia., and halfback Nick Petrillo, Granite City, each grabbed seven or more touchdowns.

Petrillo gained 24 yards in his pass receptions and was a runner on 47 plays during the season, gaining a net of 91 yards.

The 2-6 Peru State record included a 6-2 win over Yankton and a 3-5 romp over Southern State.

GC Council Hears Engineer Report on New Storm Sewers

Granite City's storm water sewer project engineer summed up in a few words the progress made toward getting quick repairs to the turn up streets in the East Granite and other areas of the city.

"No real conclusions were reached," was the report given to the council Monday night on a meeting held with the contractor, S. M. Wilson & P., by Mervin Grant of the H. W. Lochner Co., engineers.

The engineer said his requests for more equipment for clean up work on the project had been turned down repeatedly by the top office of the contractor. He added that equipment had been moved in and had done a good job on the clean up of the Warren and Myrtle avenue areas which were chief topics of complaints at the Nov. 18 council session.

Causes for Delays

He added that the contractor has been delayed by lack of easements, difficulties with scheduling work for relocation of gas and water lines by utilities and the weather. The job also has been plagued with numerous instances of costly vandalism to equipment and work.

"The work on installation of the pipe is proceeding at a rapid pace, but the tie-in of the lines and repairs are not as fast. Rains have slowed down the pouring of concrete for the channels, and in several instances we have asked the contractor to re-connect lines with the old sanitary sewers. This is double work and we pay double for this."

"I think the clean up could be carried out sooner," the engineer added.

He pointed out Illinois Power Co. is replacing cast iron gas mains at the sewer construction sites with steel pipe, and that Irvin Slate, assisted by Frank Krause, assistant superintendent of schools, spoke to the Granite City Rotary Club luncheon meeting Tuesday to outline the forthcoming school bond issue.

The speakers stressed, "education is important to the life of a community by helping those who reside here with better job opportunities and encouraging quality leaders to come to the community."

There are now 15,000 students in the local school system and the projection in 12 years will be an estimated 22,500 students, they said.

The Rotary Club voted today to endorse the bond issue and to encourage active support by others.
